

THE FACES OF Sedation Dentistry

Eric George DMD & Associates

For a large majority of patients, anxiety is what prevents them from seeing their dentist on a regular basis. With advances in technology, equipment, and sedation techniques, there is no longer a reason to fear going to the dentist. At Eric George and Associates, there is a team of exceptionally trained practitioners that can address a patient's fears in a safe, warm and friendly environment. The office offers all types of sedation for all different levels of anxiety including general anesthesia, IV sedation, pill sedation and nitrous oxide sedation.

In addition to sedation, Eric George and Associates offers a full range of comprehensive services including implants, surgery, cosmetic dentistry, orthodontics, periodontal surgery, root canals and much more. The office has been rated top dentists in Rhode Island on multiple occasions and was one of the first general dental sedation facilities in Rhode Island. There are eight dentists on staff including an implant surgeon, an orthodontist, and eight hygienists. Emergencies are seen promptly and wait times are minimal.
